

Prominent Carlton Fields Health Care Attorney Elevated to Shareholder

February 25, 2020

Carlton Fields health care attorney Jonathan “Tre” Dixon III was featured in a Business Observer article regarding his recent promotion to shareholder following the firm’s February annual meeting. Dixon counsels hospitals and other health care providers on regulatory, operational, and transactional aspects of health care law, with an emphasis on mergers, acquisitions, joint venture agreements, corporate governance best practices, Stark and anti-kickback compliance, and risk and claims management. The article also highlights his time at Tampa General Hospital, as well as his six-year service in the U.S. Air Force. Read the article.
