

Current Developments In D&O Insurance Coverage

February 20, 2012

This article by Steven Brodie and Kevin McCoy discusses current issues with D&O and entity coverage for securities claims based upon several recent decisions from courts around the United States. It includes tips that insurers and insureds should consider when deciding what kind and level of insurance to purchase to cover securities claims. It also includes tips to consider after there has been a claim made against the policy, and the insured and insurer are working through the claims process.

Authored By

Steven J. Brodie

Kevin P. McCoy

Related Practices

Life, Annuity, and Retirement Litigation

©2024 Carlton Fields, P.A. Carlton Fields practices law in California through Carlton Fields, LLP. Carlton Fields publications should not be construed as legal advice on any specific facts or circumstances. The contents are intended for general information and educational purposes only, and should not be relied on as if it were advice about a particular fact situation. The distribution of this publication is not intended to create, and receipt of it does not constitute, an attorney-client relationship with Carlton Fields. This publication may not be quoted or referred to in any other publication or proceeding without the prior written consent of the firm, to be given or withheld at our discretion. To request reprint permission for any of our publications, please use our Contact Us form via the link below. The views set forth herein are the personal views of the author and do not necessarily reflect those of the firm. This site may contain hypertext links to information created and maintained by other entities. Carlton Fields does not control or guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this outside information, nor is the inclusion of a link to be intended as an endorsement of those outside sites.