

Carlton Fields Adds International Attorney Roger Kobert

June 09, 2020

Carlton Fields international litigator Roger S. Kobert was featured in a Law360 article about his decision to join the firm. Kobert has more than 30 years of experience and serves his clients from Carlton Fields' New York and Miami offices. Along with Kobert, the article quotes Carlton Fields Business Litigation Practice Chair Merrick L. "Rick" Gross and New York Office Managing Shareholder Jeanne M. Kohler. "Carlton Fields was a natural fit," Kobert told Law360. "New York and Miami are two leading U.S. cities for international law practices, so it was an easy transition for me. The firm has a nationwide platform with great lawyers, and I had been working with other Carlton Fields lawyers previously on a co-counsel basis."
