Overview

Olivia Nelson is developing her practice in business litigation and real estate transactions. As a summer associate at the firm, she worked on construction and business litigation matters, as well as real estate transactions. Her work included researching and drafting legal memoranda, motions, proposed orders, and loan documents, as well as attending court hearings and contract negotiations.

Olivia earned her J.D. from the University of Florida Levin College of Law, where she was a Chesterfield Smith Scholar, a member of the Moot Court Team, and senior research editor of the Florida Journal of International Law. During law school, she served as a judicial intern to the Honorable Beth Bloom of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida and completed a legal internship at a law firm in Lima, Peru.

Before pursuing a career in law, Olivia spent three years as a research technician at Massachusetts General Hospital, where she managed research data and served as a liaison for more than 70 research labs.
