

USCIS Exceeds Fiscal Year 2016 Limit on H-1B Petitions

April 08, 2015

United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) has reached the congressionally mandated H-1B cap for fiscal year 2016. It also received more than the limit of 20,000 H-1B petitions filed under the U.S. advanced degree exemption ("U.S. Masters Cap"). By using a computergenerated process ("the H-1B cap lottery"), USCIS will randomly select the petitions needed to meet the 65,000 quota for the general category of new H-1B visas and the 20,000 quota for the U.S. Master's Cap.

USCIS will first randomly select petitions for U.S. Master's Cap. All unselected petitions under this category will become part of the random selection process for the 65,000 general quota. USCIS will reject and return filing fees for all unselected cap-subject petitions that are not duplicate filings.

Before running the lottery, USCIS will complete initial intake for all filings received up to April 7. Due to the high number of petitions, USCIS is not yet able to announce the date it will conduct the H-1B lottery. USCIS will continue to accept and process petitions that are exempt from the cap, such as petitions that were counted against the cap in previous years (such as extensions or amendments to employment terms).

Related Practices

Business Transactions
Immigration Planning and Compliance

©2024 Carlton Fields, P.A. Carlton Fields practices law in California through Carlton Fields, LLP. Carlton Fields publications should not be construed as legal advice on any specific facts or circumstances. The contents are intended for general information and educational purposes only, and should not be relied on as if it were advice about a particular fact situation. The distribution of this publication is not intended to create, and receipt of it does not constitute, an attorney-client relationship with Carlton Fields. This publication may not be quoted or referred to in any other publication or proceeding without the prior written consent of the firm, to be given or withheld at our discretion. To request reprint permission for any of our publications, please use our Contact Us form via the link below. The views set forth herein are the personal views of the author and do not necessarily reflect those of the firm. This site may contain hypertext links to information created and maintained by other entities. Carlton Fields does not control or guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this outside information, nor is the inclusion of a link to be intended as an endorsement of those outside sites.