

Carlton Fields IP Attorneys' Trademarks in Space Article Cited in University of San Francisco Intellectual Property and Technology Law Journal

March 01, 2020

Carlton Fields intellectual property attorneys Clark Lackert and Jonathan Goodwill's articles on trademarks in space were cited in a University of San Francisco Intellectual Property and Technology Law Journal article about zombie trademarks, or abandoned trademarks with residual goodwill in space commerce. Lackert and Goodwill have authored or been featured in several articles on the subject of intellectual property in space, including for Asia IP, Intellectual Property Magazine, and the World Trademark Review.

Related Practices

Intellectual Property

