

The ABCs of Pilot Deviations

June 25, 2020

This webinar, hosted by Carlton Fields for the Alaska Airmen's Association, explains how the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) responds to pilot deviations that violate the code of federal regulations or call into question a pilot's skills, training, competency, and proficiency.

It's important to understand what to do when the FAA scrutinizes a pilot deviation because the FAA can suspend and also revoke your pilot certificate, your CFI certificate, and your A&P or IA certificates.

This webinar will cover all the basics, including the FAA's compliance action program, the FAA's alternative process of responding to pilot deviations that focuses on addressing the root problem involved in the deviation rather than imposing other sanctions.

Presented By

Edward J. Page

Related Practices

Aviation

©2024 Carlton Fields, P.A. Carlton Fields practices law in California through Carlton Fields, LLP. Carlton Fields publications should not be construed as legal advice on any specific facts or circumstances. The contents are intended for general information and educational purposes only, and should not be relied on as if it were advice about a particular fact situation. The distribution of this publication is not intended to create, and receipt of it does not constitute, an attorney-client relationship with Carlton Fields. This publication may not be quoted or referred to in any other publication or proceeding without the prior written consent of the firm, to be given or withheld at our discretion. To request reprint permission for any of our publications, please use our Contact Us form via the link below. The views set forth herein are the personal views of the author and do not necessarily reflect those of the firm. This site may contain hypertext links to information created and maintained by other entities. Carlton Fields does not control or guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this outside information, nor is the inclusion of a link to be intended as an endorsement of those outside sites.