

NFT Perspectives: A Discussion With Artist and Filmmaker Haik Kocharian

June 29, 2022

From ownership to expression to revenue, it's no secret that non-fungible tokens (NFTs) have made a significant impact on the art world in the last 18 months. Join Carlton Fields crypto attorney Matt Kohen as he discusses the explosion of NFTs into the art scene with award-winning artist and filmmaker Haik Kocharian, a New York-based creative using NFTs for fine art photography, poetry, and film. Moving beyond the popular media reporting of record valuations and social FOMO (fear of missing out), Kocharian describes how artists are successfully using NFTs, marketplaces, and digital currency payments and reevaluating their methods of control, funding, and business relationships beyond the traditional gallery and patronage systems.
