

No Password Required: A Former Police Officer Who Embodies All the Qualities of a Great Leader

January 28, 2022

The No Password Required Podcast is dedicated to introducing and celebrating the practitioners, leaders, researchers, and individuals who are shaping the cybersecurity industry. Join us for an in-depth conversation that explores our guests' personalities, expertise, and the path that led them into cybersecurity. The team also discusses current cyber threats and readiness tips for security professionals and business leaders alike.

Chase Fopiano is the Founder of CyberTech Analytics, a cybersecurity provider that combines the worlds of both law enforcement and information security. Chase began his career as a police officer before diving headfirst into the cybersecurity world, and has since carried the lessons he learned during that time into both his life and his career. In this episode, Chase joins the No Password Required team to talk about the moment he decided to make the change to cybersecurity, his passion for learning and how it has helped him succeed, and why Yoda is the character he most relates to in life. Ernie, Jack, and Pablo discuss the cybercrime gang FIN7 and their recent attacks using malicious USB sticks designed to deliver ransomware. In the new Technologue segment, Pablo discusses the Voldemort of cyber-vulnerabilities, Log4j.
