

Second Circuit, Federal Circuit and TTAB crossroads: Cuban embargo or Pan-American Convention?

February 07, 2023

This article first appeared in WTR Daily, part of World Trademark Review, in February 2023. For further information, please go to www.worldtrademarkreview.com.

The Pan-American Convention interplay with Sections 17(a) and 44(h) of the Lanham Act resulted in statutory grounds for trademark cancellation when before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (the 'TTAB' or 'board'), but did not give rise to a separate right to sue when in federal court.

Background

On 20 December 2022 the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board issued a precedential opinion in Empresa Cubana Del Tabaco dba Cubatabaco v General Cigar Co Inc (Cancellation No 92025859), recounting decades of litigation between the named entities.

In 1969 petitioner Empresa Cubana Del Tabaco dba Cubatabaco applied to register the mark COHIBA in Cuba (said registration issuing in 1972), and began producing COHIBA-branded cigars. Throughout the 1970s, such COHIBA cigars were gifted by Cuban political figures and government bodies to US persons. On 15 November 1977 Forbes magazine published an article on Cuban tobacco helping the US cigar industry and referenced Cubatabaco's COHIBA brand.

Click here to read the full article.

Authored By

Ahmed-Zayn Mohamed

Related Practices

Intellectual Property

©2024 Carlton Fields, P.A. Carlton Fields practices law in California through Carlton Fields, LLP. Carlton Fields publications should not be construed as legal advice on any specific facts or circumstances. The contents are intended for general information and educational purposes only, and should not be relied on as if it were advice about a particular fact situation. The distribution of this publication is not intended to create, and receipt of it does not constitute, an attorney-client relationship with Carlton Fields. This publication may not be quoted or referred to in any other publication or proceeding without the prior written consent of the firm, to be given or withheld at our discretion. To request reprint permission for any of our publications, please use our Contact Us form via the link below. The views set forth herein are the personal views of the author and do not necessarily reflect those of the firm. This site may contain hypertext links to information created and maintained by other entities. Carlton Fields does not control or guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this outside information, nor is the inclusion of a link to be intended as an endorsement of those outside sites.