

Carlton Fields Outlines Practice Group Expansion Plans

June 01, 2018

Amy E. Furness, Carlton Fields' Miami office co-managing shareholder, was interviewed by South Florida Legal Guide about the firm's plans to expand its real estate, health care, tax, corporate, and white-collar practice areas. She also described how Carlton Fields is using technology to create a top-notch client experience.

"We help our clients identify efficiencies in how we can serve their needs as alternatives to the traditional billable hour," Furness told the publication.
