

For the Defense: Carlton Fields' Amy Furness Featured on Cover of Business Magazine

June 28, 2019

Amy Furness, Carlton Fields' Miami office co-managing shareholder, is featured on the front cover and in a seven-page spread inside of the July issue of Florida Trend magazine, a publication focused on the state's business community. The feature profile focuses on Furness' legal practice and experience as a products liability litigator. It includes quotes from Furness, as well as Miami Shareholder Benjamin Reid. "Our system of justice is based on the notion that everyone has a right to a defense, and there should be no disparagement for a company defending itself," Furness told the publication.
