

Brendan Gooley and Jonathan Sterling Published in HR Daily Advisor: 5 Employment Policies to Draft or Redraft with Coronavirus Hindsight

May 26, 2020

Carlton Fields labor and employment attorneys Brendan Gooley and Jonathan Sterling authored an HR Daily Advisor article titled, “5 Employment Policies to Draft or Redraft with Coronavirus Hindsight,” about the policy adjustments all employers should enact throughout the coronavirus crisis. Companies should consider revising or reworking their sick leave, vacation leave, teleworking, disaster/contingency, and other relevant policies to reduce the risk of contamination, and prepare for what will happen if an employee contracts coronavirus. Gooley and Sterling suggest that proper planning regarding policies enables employers to reopen as smoothly as possible. Read the article.

Featuring

Brendan N. Gooley

Jonathan Sterling

Related Practices

Labor & Employment