

Steve Dupré Authors Article in State-to-State on Remote Proceeding Advocacy

May 01, 2020

Carlton Fields appellate attorney Steven Dupré authored an article in The Florida Bar Out-of-State Division's State-to-State spring publication on remote proceeding advocacy. While working from home during the coronavirus crisis, it is critical to continue as an effective client advocate, even throughout virtual video proceedings. Dupré describes how to handle a remote proceeding, with instruction and insights on proper use of technology platforms, appropriate appearance, and much more. Read the article.

Featuring

Steven C. Dupré

Related Practices

Appellate & Trial Support

