

Carlton Fields IP Attorneys Author Article for Law360: Amgen, Juno And The Fate Of Functional Genus Claims

June 08, 2022

Four Carlton Fields attorneys — J. Coy Stull, Katherine Teal Leonard, Ahmed-Zayn Mohamed, and Meredith Little — authored an article, "Amgen, Juno and the Fate of Functional Genus Claims," for Law360. The article discusses the evidence offered and rejected by the Federal Circuit in Juno Therapeutics, Inc. v. Kite Pharma and Amgen v. Sanofi, and by the District Court (by a Federal Circuit Judge presiding) in Baxalta Inc. v. Genentech, Inc. It also discusses the possible ramifications of potential Supreme Court intervention in Amgen v. Sanofi (cert petition pending) and Juno v. Kite (cert petition expected in mid-June). READ the article.

Featuring

J. Coy Stull

Ahmed-Zayn Mohamed

Related Practices

Intellectual Property