

Carlton Fields Featured in Law360 and Latinvex: “Carlton Fields Launches Global Anti-Corruption Practice”

October 10, 2023

Carlton Fields was featured in Law360 and Latinvex articles discussing the firm’s new Global Anti-Corruption Practice, which was launched in response to businesses seeing more scrutiny on international transactions as well as evolving regulations and more enforcement by government agencies. Tom Sjoblom and Tom Morante lead the new practice group. "Carlton Fields possesses a deep understanding of clients' industries and the cultural nuances to anti-corruption challenges across diverse regions," said Morante. Added Sjoblom, "It was just time to pull all this together and get everything in a cohesive practice group so that we provide better legal services to our existing clients."
