

Carlton Fields 2024 Class Action Survey Featured in Claims Journal: “Study: Percentage of Companies Facing Class Actions at Highest Level in 13 Years”

March 25, 2024

Carlton Fields was featured in Claims Journal, in an article titled “Study: Percentage of Companies Facing Class Actions at Highest Level in 13 Years.” The article discusses the results of the firm’s 2024 Class Action Survey, which found that the percentage of companies facing class actions has reached the highest level in more than a decade, and corporate counsel are anticipating unprecedented growth for their class action dockets in 2024. Read the article. Subscription may be required.

Featuring

D. Matthew Allen

John E. Clabby

Related Practices

Class Actions

