Steve Brodie has extensive experience in insurance-related litigation, including coverage, defense, and regulatory matters. His clients include Fortune 100 companies, major insurers, financial services companies, telecommunications firms, officers and directors, institutional lenders, and developers. As lead counsel, he has defended matters in numerous jurisdictions and more than 20 states, including California, Florida, Hawaii, Kentucky, Michigan, New York, Tennessee, and Virginia. - Ditech Fin. LLC v. AIG Specialty Ins. Co., No. 8:20-cv-00409, 2021 WL 4263330 (M.D. Fla. Sept. 20, 2021). Obtained summary judgment finding no coverage for $24 million settlement between loan servicer and federal government because claim was first made before the policy period.

As the lead defense firm in the Southern District of Iowa, obtained a defense summary judgment where the plaintiff general contractor improperly attempted to obtain a $50 million-plus double recovery in equity against project owner's post-construction property insurers. The general contractor was previously sued for its materially deficient construction of the project in the Southern District of Florida.
