Overview

Harvey Geller has more than three decades of experience handling complex business litigation matters. He has extensive experience in intellectual property, technology, internet, digital media, and entertainment matters, and has been at the forefront in developing and shaping new media and internet law in the United States. He litigated the landmark cases against MP3.com, Napster, Aimster, Grokster, LimeWire, and Grooveshark, in addition to the industry-leading cases involving the Digital Millennium Copyright Act. Harvey also litigated the groundbreaking case against Napster's investors, the seminal trademark and First Amendment case concerning the trade name "Barbie," and led the multijurisdiction common law copyright class actions brought by Flo & Eddie (The Turtles) against Sirius XM Radio Inc. and Pandora Media Inc.

His experience extends well beyond entertainment, new media, and intellectual property matters and includes antitrust, business torts, insurance, contract disputes, accounting and royalty disputes, employment, product liability, and personal injury. He has litigated on behalf of plaintiffs and defendants in state and federal courts around the country and is experienced in all aspects of litigation, including trials, appeals, and class actions.

Harvey has been recognized by the Los Angeles Daily Journal as one of the 100 Top Entertainment Lawyers and 50 Top IP Lawyers, by Hollywood Reporter as one of Hollywood's Power Lawyers, and by Billboard Magazine as one of the top five Music Litigation Attorneys.

For 17 years, Harvey was deputy general counsel and head of litigation for the Universal Music Group, one of the largest entertainment companies in the world. Prior to that he was a partner with a leading midsize general practice law firm in Los Angeles.

Experience

Litigation

- Office Depot, Inc. v. AIG Specialty Ins. Co., No. 2:15-cv-02416, 2016 WL 6106408 (C.D. Cal. June 6, 2016). Obtained judgment in favor of media liability insurer holding that insurer had no duty to reimburse $15 million in defense expenses or to indemnify $77.5 million settlement of a whistleblower suit. The court found that section 533 of the California Insurance Code precluded any duty to defend or indemnify the qui tam lawsuit alleging violations of the California False Claims Act.
- UMG v. MySpace; UMG v. Grouper; UMG v. DivX; UMG v. Veoh. First copyright infringement actions involving the scope of the DMCA safe harbors filed against social networking sites.
- MGM v. Grokster. Copyright infringement action involving P2P file-sharing service which resulted in seminal U.S. Supreme Court decision establishing claim for inducement of copyright infringement.
- UMG Recordings, Inc. v. Bertelsmann; UMG v. Hummer Winblad Venture Partners. Copyright infringement actions brought against investors in Napster after Napster filed for bankruptcy. Case established law for pursuing investors and resulted in significant settlements.
- A&M v. Napster. First contributory and vicarious copyright infringement action involving P2P file-sharing service. Resulted in influential Ninth Circuit decision.
- Arista v. LimeWire. Contributory and vicarious infringement action involving biggest P2P file-sharing service. Settled during trial for one of largest copyright settlements in history.
- Flo & Eddie v. Sirius XM. Multiple class action litigations establishing performance right in pre-1972 recordings in California, New York, and Florida.
- Flo & Eddie v. Pandora Media. Class action litigation establishing performance right in pre-1972 recordings in California.
- Mattel v. MCA. Defended trademark and dilution claims concerning the name “Barbie.” Obtained summary judgment, which was affirmed on appeal by Ninth Circuit in major trademark and First Amendment decision.
- UMG Recordings v. MP3.com. Direct copyright infringement action involving the creation of a database of 80,000 recordings. Obtained summary judgment on liability and $53 million judgment after damages trial.
- In re Minimum Advertised Price Litigation. Defended against antitrust class actions brought by attorneys general in 42 states and private consumers alleging vertical and horizontal agreements in connection with minimum advertising price policies.

- In re CD Antitrust Litigation. Defended against antitrust class actions brought by retailers and consumers alleging horizontal agreement with respect to CD pricing.
