Overview

An experienced lawyer, Alon Lagstein is dedicated to representing owners, operators, tenants, landlords, borrowers, lenders, investors, and developers in commercial and residential real estate matters, with a focus on acquisition and disposition, leasing, financing, and joint ventures. He represents a wide range of clients, including high net worth individuals and family offices, startups, private equity firms, financial institutions, and project sponsors. With vast institutional knowledge earned over years at both international firms and boutiques, Alon is able to provide efficient and effective representation on matters large and small regardless of industry. He zealously represents clients in the renewable energy, hospitality, health care, entertainment, and media industries.

A self-proclaimed deal enthusiast, Alon is passionate about helping navigate clients through changing real estate needs and evolving market dynamics. His practical approach is informed by deep market knowledge and hands-on experience as a California-licensed real estate broker and private investor.

Born and raised in the entertainment mecca of Las Vegas, before law school, Alon pursued a career as a professional actor in Los Angeles, with appearances in films such as “You Don’t Mess with the Zohan,” television series including “Undercovers” and “The Event,” and commercials for Bank of America and Coors.
