Overview

Greg Null has extensive experience representing clients in the financing, acquisition, disposition, development, and leasing of commercial properties in every asset class.

Greg has spent much of his career representing investors and sponsors in a wide range of joint venture and other equity matters. Greg also regularly represents institutional lenders negotiating, documenting, and closing complex commercial loans of all types, including bridge, construction, acquisition, development, permanent, and mezzanine loans. Greg advises various lenders in making bridge loans secured by commercial properties located across the country. Also, since the inception of the CMBS industry, Greg has represented a host of securitized lenders in closing numerous commercial real estate loans secured by properties in most states. Greg also has substantial experience representing lenders and investors in complex real estate problem loan workouts, restructures, and remedy enforcement. In addition, he represents special and master servicers in a wide range of servicing matters.

Greg chairs the firm's Commercial Finance Industry Group and is the Atlanta office managing shareholder. He is also a frequent presenter for various client seminars.
