Overview

Adam Schwartz concentrates his practice on white collar criminal defense, False Claims Act (qui tam/whistleblower) defense, health care fraud and abuse matters, and OFAC sanctions compliance and licensing. He represents individuals and corporations in internal investigations, securities and accounting fraud, asset forfeiture, defense contractor fraud, money laundering, corporate compliance, grand jury practice and procedure, and complex civil fraud defense. He advises clients on BSA/AML and Patriot Act compliance and defends bank officers and directors in FDIC litigation.

Adam advises pharmaceutical wholesalers on regulatory compliance laws including the Drug Quality and Security Act and the Drug Supply Chain Security Act.

Prior to joining the firm, Adam prosecuted money laundering and asset forfeiture matters as an assistant U.S. attorney with the Eastern District of New York.

Adam speaks regularly before other practitioners on topics ranging from health care fraud to attorney-client privilege considerations during internal investigation. He has been co-chair of the American Bar Association White Collar Crime Subcommittee for the Florida Region since 2007. Adam chairs the firm's White Collar Crime and Government Investigations Practice.

Experience

- United States v. HPC Healthcare, Inc., 723 F. App'x 783 (11th Cir. 2018). The Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed dismissal with prejudice of a qui tam action brought against our client for the alleged fraudulent submission of medical billing to Medicare and Medicaid. The Eleventh Circuit agreed that the plaintiff had failed to plead detailed allegations sufficient to satisfy the applicable standards under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 9(b).
- United States v. Advanced Anesthesia. Relator's complaint dismissed with prejudice.
- Markland v. Insys Therapeutics, Inc. Plaintiff's complaint dismissed with prejudice on federal preemption.
- Defended physician in FDA investigation regarding an experimental drug.
- Defended construction company in NASA criminal investigation.
- Wellcare of Fla., Inc. v. Total Physician Sols., Inc. Awarded $1.8 million in arbitration.
