Carlton Fields' CyberAPP Featured in the Media

Media Mention

2.19.18

Business and legal technology publications recently reported on the firm's new, free, cyber incident response mobile application — CyberAPP. Legal Tech News called the firm's app "simple and easy to navigate, and its content is written in clear and accessible language." Regarding the app's business development value, which was defined as understanding your audience, what information they need, and whether they really need to download an entire app, LTN reported "… CyberAPP demonstrates a solid understanding of this principle." The South Florida Business Journal and Business Observer also reported on the app and firm's expertise in this area.
