

No Password Required: A Believer That the Key to Internet Safety Is Simple...

CYBERSECURITY AND PRIVACY | TECHNOLOGY | MARCH 18, 2021

John E. Clabby

The No Password Required Podcast is dedicated to introducing and celebrating the practitioners, leaders, researchers, and individuals who are shaping the cybersecurity industry. Join us for an in-depth conversation that explores our guests' personalities, expertise, and the path that led them into cybersecurity. The team also discusses current cyber threats and readiness tips for security professionals and business leaders alike.

Roger Grimes is the defense-driven evangelist at KnowBe4 who confidently defines himself as the best in the world at defending against hackers. In this episode, Roger joins the No Password Required team to discuss how being a terrible accountant led him to the world of cybersecurity, why octopi cannot be trusted, and why music is the best way to create powerful connections. Additionally, Clabby and Pablo discuss insights from the National Security Agency's 2020 cybersecurity year in review. In the "Positively Cyber" segment, Pablo analyzes why Hermione Granger's work ethic and determination would make her the perfect fit for Senior Director of Threat Intelligence in our fictitious cybersecurity organization.
